Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo
2017 Royalty Pageant
Official Contestant Rules/Guidelines

The Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo Royalty will serve as goodwill ambassadors in representing the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo, The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, as well as our community and sponsors with the highest level of poise and integrity. They will recognize the importance of promoting positive image and of preserving our Western heritage.

Contestants of the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo Royalty Pageant will compete in the following categories

Public Speaking/Prepared Speech
Modeling
Personality
Appearance
Horsemanship/Freestyle
Personal Interview
Impromptu Interview
Written Test

PUBLIC SPEAKING OR PREPARED SPEECH

The speech must be 2 to 3 minutes in length, and memorized. The topic is, "The Sky's the Limit! What's Your Dream?" The contestant will be penalized for going under or over the time limit. A timer will go off at three minutes and the contestant may finish the sentence that she is on and then terminate her speech. She will be judged on the projection of her speech and the manner that it is given. She will also be judged on her personality throughout her speech. The public speaking shows the judges how well the contestant presents herself in front of an audience.

MODELING

The contestant will model in front of an audience and the judges. Contestants will be encouraged to utilize their Western fashion forward savvy. Leather dresses are not required. During the modeling, the contestant is also being scored separately on appearance. There will be no set modeling pattern. The contestant will be allowed to model up to 1 ½ minutes. The purpose of the modeling will be to showcase confidence, personality, and grace.

PERSONALITY

Contestants will be judged on their personality throughout the entire pageant. Anytime the contestant is in front of a judge she will be scored on her personality. We want to have Royalty that is personable, knowledgeable, confident, and works well with others.

APPEARANCE

Contestants will also be judged on their outward appearance. Each portion of the Pageant allows for a different appearance. During all portions of the Pageant, contestants will be scored when they are in front of the judges. We want our Royalty to look the part from the top of their hats to the soles of their boots.

HORSEMANSHIP

Horsemanship is a vital element of the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo pageant. Not only does the Royalty have to be professional while they are representing our rodeo, they have to be able to demonstrate their ability as a rider in true horsemanship fashion. Contestants will be evaluated in the following aspects of horsemanship:

- *Exhibition of poise and confidence
- *Ability to maintain a balanced, functional, and fundamentally correct body position
- *Execution and completion of the assigned reining pattern
- *Demonstration of horsemanship skills in handling her horse on the ground and in the arena
- *Physical appearance of the horse

Contestants will lead their horse into the arena to mount. The judges will signal for your ride to begin. After completion of the reining pattern, the contestant will be asked to perform a presentation ride. During this presentation, the contestant will be judged on the following:

- *Speed at a fast controlled gait
- *Correct lead
- *Salute to the crowd
- *A smooth and controlled stop

The contestant will be asked to dismount after the presentation ride, face the judges, unbridle and bridle their horse and lead them from the arena.

Contestants must use the same horse for the entire judged horsemanship and freestyle events.

FREESTYLE

The contestants will continue competing in a freestyle riding event allowing them to showcase their partnership with their horse. The contestants program must be 3 to 5 minutes in length, including any introductions. Contestants may use one or more pieces of music, vocal or instrumental; part of a speech; pieces of poetry; spoken words, etc. Be creative! The Sky's the Limit! Contestants will be responsible for providing their own sound. The time limit will be from the beginning of the music or introduction (whichever is first) and will end with the music. No equipment will be allowed (e.g., barrels, jumps, etc). Costumes are optional. Riders may carry flags as part of their routines as long as you enter the arena with the flag(s) in hand. Contestant must compete on the same horse used in the horsemanship.

PERSONAL INTERVIEW

The interview will not last any longer than 7 minutes per contestant. This will give each contestant equal time with the judges. This is the contestants chance to shine with the judges. The contestant will be asked questions on personality, current events, equine knowledge, pro rodeo rules, general rodeo knowledge, and anything in between. Judges will ask all contestants the same questions. The purpose of the interview is to see how well contestants conduct themselves in the public setting.

IMPROMPTU INTERVIEW

The impromptu interview will be held in conjunction with the Speech and Modeling portions of the contest. Each contestant will receive the same question. In this portion of the pageant, the contestant should expect the unexpected. The question will be presented by the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo President. The contestants will be in an isolation room until it is their turn. After completing the interview, the contestant will be escorted from the area to an isolation room until all contestants have been the impromptu question.

WRITTEN TEST

The written test will be administered in a separate, supervised room and will include a combination of both Rodeo and Equine knowledge and questions pertaining to the history of the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo.

Composite score sheets will be used to judge the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo Royalty Pageant and will be kept with the judges at all times. Contestants are entitled to know their total scores in each category and how she was judged in that event. Appointed committee members will be adding the scores and placing them in sealed envelopes. To ensure confidentiality, composite score sheets will not be posted.

Each contestant will draw for her number when she arrives at the pageant. This will be the order that she will compete in for every category. Parents of contestants are not allowed to draw numbers for them. Contestants must have numbers visible in all portions of the pageant.

There will be three judges for each category of the contest and each contestant will be scored as followed: Public Speaking/Prepared Speech, Modeling, and Impromptu Interview will account for 150 points. The Personal Interview, Personality and Appearance will account for 150 points. Horsemanship/Freestyle will account for 200 points. The Written Test is worth 50 points for an overall total of 550 points. If there are questions on a portion of the judging the matter may be taken up with a member of the rodeo committee and the judge in question. The judges may give comments and feedback.

Items on the contract will include completion of reign, attire during reign, conduct, morals, ethical standards, grounds for dismissal, and required attendance to all Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo sanctioned events. Everyone will be expected to abide by the Code of Conduct agreement including invited guests and parents. If for any reason, a royalty court member should be asked to resign, she will be required to forfeit her prizes and awards to the committee.

The Royalty court is always in the public eye. Therefore, it is very important to look your best at all times. Royalty must be in full and appropriate western attire when appearing on behalf of the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo. This will include at all times the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo crown, banner and the Dinosaur Roundup Rodeo buckle. The Dinosaur Roundup Royalty will be supervised/chaperoned at all times by parent/coach/guardian or royalty coordinator.

According to what is appropriate for the designated function, royalty may wear skirts, dresses, pants, vest, or jacket. A long sleeved shirt or blouse, along with Wrangler jeans will be required when riding in the arena. Ripped or faded jeans are not allowed. If for some reason the reigning title holder is unable to fulfill her duties, the Royalty Committee, with the approval of the DRR Board, will appoint a replacement for the remainder of her term.

Contestants are at liberty to invite guests to the Pageant, excluding the Personal Interview. Guests should respect all the contestants, judges, and committee members. All guests should conduct themselves in a courteous manner.
